4. Subject to § 142.4(1), the reference price for prices in the continuous trading phase and for the closing price, for static collars, shall be the opening price and, if no opening price is determined in the opening phase, the last closing price. 5. Subject to sub-paragraphs 8 and 9, the reference price for prices in the continuous trading phase and for the closing price, for dynamic collars, shall be the price of the last transaction, subject to § 142.4(1). 6. The Exchange Management Board shall determine in the Detailed Exchange Trading Rules the detailed terms and conditions of determining the reference price and the static and dynamic collars for securities traded in the continuous trading system, but the maximum permissible variation from the reference price for specific collars may not exceed, subject to sub-paragraph 9:

7. The Exchange Management Board shall determine in the Detailed Exchange Trading Rules the detailed terms and conditions of determining the reference price and the static and dynamic collars for derivative instruments traded in the continuous trading system, subject to sub-paragraph 9, but the maximum permissible variation from the reference price for specific collars may not exceed:

8. In the market maker system, the permissible collars shall be determined by limit prices of the market maker's orders and limit prices set by the Exchange according to the provisions of the Detailed Exchange Trading Rules, provided that the variation of a limit price set by the Exchange from a limit price of the market maker's order, subject to sub-paragraph 9, is not greater than:
